Operational Definitions

The number of female home-makers aged 15 and over as percentage of females aged 15 and over. The term "family caregivers" as commonly understood may not be exactly the same as the term "homemaker" used in the General Household Survey. The latter refers to persons who are economically inactive for the reason of engagement in household duties. Some "family caregivers" can be economically active (e.g. working yet giving care) or economically inactive for other reasons (e.g. retired).
